WPRZ is owned and operated by Praise Communications, Inc., a non-profit ministry supported by the body of Christ in our area. Our mission is to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ to the lost, to nurture and help believers grow in their relationship with God, and to strengthen the local church.

Carrie Foscatto is the new on-air host of Praise in the Morning heard each weekday morning 1am until 5am and then 9am until noon. Although she's new to Praise in the Morning, she's not new to the ministry or WPRZ. She started as our Administrative Assistant in 1996 and worked in that position for five years. She stepped down to become a wife to a wonderful husband and mom to three kids but has often volunteered over the years in many capacities as time allowed. She's really excited about this new opportunity to share music with the WPRZ listeners. She grew up listening to Praise Radio when we were 1250AM in Warrenton and she looks forward to bringing back great Classic Christian Gold for the listeners along with new songs to encourage listeners in their faith. Carrie currently lives in Amisville with her husband and three kids, one dog, two lizards, eighteen chickens, and a pig named Harold. In her free time, she enjoys gardening and oil painting.

Pete McCory is glad to be back at WPRZ after a long hiatus. He helped Sally start the station back in 1981 and was the station's first announcer, chief engineer, and operations manager. Now he's back as WPRZ's weekend announcer, playing your favorite Gospel bluegrass music from noon to midnight each Saturday and Sunday. Pete's radio experience goes back a long way. He and Sally were co-workers at WEEL in Fairfax before Pete went on to KIX 106 in the DC area. For a couple of years, Pete recorded contemporary Christian music shows in his home studio for Sally to air on WPRZ (before the station even had a studio!), then moved to Warrenton to help build the ministry. He later went on to engineering work for WQRA, WKCW, and Middleburg Broadcasting Network. In his post-radio days, he served as a public information officer for the Fairfax County Police Department and public relations director for Fauquier Hospital before following his lifelong dream of making music. Since 1996 he's been known as the One-Man-Band for kids, performing musical shows at schools and childcare centers. Pete's love of all forms of music, in particular folk and traditional music, brought him back to WPRZ to lend a hand with the bluegrass programming. Serving the Lord through radio and music has always been close to his heart.

THE STORIES BEHIND THE NEW VOICES YOU HEAR AND LOVE

WE ARE SO GRATEFUL FOR ALL OF YOU

It's been 7 months since Jesus called Sally home. She was the glue that held so many pieces of this ministry together. Her presence is missed every day. As we continue to navigate through daily life here at WPRZ it's been necessary to make some programming changes. The positive response has been tremendous. We understand there are some who haven't quite adjusted to those changes but thank you for standing with us. Please keep your letters and phone calls coming. They are a reminder that her legacy goes on. She spent her life living out the great commission and we will continue with that mission here at WPRZ. We appreciate all of you who faithfully support. The summer months can be financially difficult for many ministries. We have a big project that is long overdue. Our website needs updating but we don't have the funds available to make those changes. Pray about sending in a special gift toward the website update. We pray God will bless you for your cheerful giving!
